A NOTE FROM FATHER EICKHOFF

The translators responsible for translating the Mass from Latin to English managed to accomplish a miracle this week (the 6th Sunday of Ordinary Time). They made the first two couplets of the Opening Prayer of the Mass rhyme in English:

*O God, who teach us that you abide
In hearts that are just and true,*

*Grant that we may be so fashioned by your grace
As to become a dwelling pleasing to you.*

As much as we might admire the ability of the translators to make the English translation sound poetic, we should focus more on the meaning of the Opening Prayer. The prayer expresses in the first couplet two important facts that are crucial to our living our lives as followers of God. The first fact is that God desires to dwell with us. To be close to us, not in some generic sense, but rather so close as to live within our hearts. The second fact is that God will dwell with us if our lives are modeled after God Himself who is the very source of justice and truth. In other words, God will not dwell within a person who rejects the principles of which God is the source since to reject justice and truth is to reject God.

The second couplet informs us as to how to create “hearts that are just and true.” The lesson to learn here is that we human beings don’t create on our own “hearts that are just and true.” Instead, we rely on God’s help to create the conditions that allow God to dwell within us. God provides the necessary first step – without which all our efforts would be in vain – towards transforming our minds and hearts to a state that is pleasing to God. After this initial gift of grace and help we in response should strive to act in our lives in accordance with God’s teachings. These actions better align within us our hearts and minds towards justice and truth so that in time we are further transformed to be more like God in how we live and treat one another. We should make it a priority to pray to God asking for this gift of grace and help not only to begin this process for ourselves, but for others as well. And we should not cease to pray since we human beings are in constant need of God’s continuing help.

Finally, we might ask ourselves “why do we need to continually pray for God’s grace and help? Shouldn’t God just make us have hearts that are perfectly just and true?” I will not argue that it certainly would be nice if God were to do this. Everyone would simply do what is right and good. However, there is a severe downside to this. If God did this, then we human beings would have no free will. We human beings would have no ability to choose God, to choose the right and good, to choose to act with justice and truth. We would be automatons of God, not children of God with the ability to choose to love God and our neighbor. There is far more glory in creation and for ourselves when we human beings freely choose to ask for God’s grace and to act in accordance with the grace we have been given.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Stephen Eickhoff
Pastor

In Pew Commitment Weekend

Dear Parishioner,

Many people spend their whole lives searching for a sense of belonging. As baptized missionary disciples, we need only to look to the Bible to know exactly Who we belong to: "I have called you by name: you are mine" (Is 43:1).

What a comfort — a joy — to know, without doubt, that we belong to God!

We cannot keep this joy to ourselves. We must put our joy — our faith — into action and help further God's Kingdom here on earth. In the Diocese of Joliet, the Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal (CMAA) allows us to demonstrate our faith and bring greater assistance to those in need. Together, we invest in our future priests, catechize through Catholic education, promote social justice, and reduce the suffering of those in need.

Because of your generosity to the CMAA, you truly live out the Gospel as well as the theme for this year's CMAA, We Belong to God.

As we launch the 2023 annual appeal, I ask that you prayerfully reflect on the love God has for you, as well as Christ's Church, by making a gift or pledge this year. And if you are able, please consider increasing your gift this year. You may find inspiration in the stories in the enclosed brochure, which shares how the CMAA impacts your brothers and sisters in Christ. Please return the enclosed pledge card by February 20 or go to jolietdioceseappeal.org to give online.

As always, thank you for your generosity.

Peace,

+ Ronald A. Hicks

K-5 Family Scripture Connection

Most people would probably agree that what you say and do matters. Your words and actions have the power to help or hurt others. If you tell lies, call people names, steal things, or physically hurt others, you are obviously sinning and doing wrong. But what about your thoughts and feelings? Do they matter? It is easy to think that it doesn't matter if you are angry with someone as long as you don't get in a fight with them. But in the Gospel for today, Jesus tells us that "whoever is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment." What is in your heart and mind is just as important as what you actually say and do. Your thoughts and feelings can either lead you towards God and love of others or away from God and love. Perhaps you can spend some time in prayer this week asking God to help you choose to turn your whole self (words, actions, thoughts, and feelings) towards Him.

K-5 Schedule

Classes meet as usual this week, February 13-15. Please note that there are no classes the following week, February 20-22. All families are encouraged to join us for one of the Ash Wednesday Masses on February 22 instead.

Choices

Those in DASH 1 and DASH 2 hear that I love the book of Sirach (Ben Sira in their Bibles) as it is a book specific to us as Catholics and just has practical advice. Today's 1st reading from Sirach 15:15 states: "if you choose you can keep the Commandments. If you trust in God, you shall live." Our world is full of choices and the difficult ones aren't usually right vs. wrong, but personal desires/needs/happiness vs. God's desires/direction for us. We have become a society that is over scheduled because we don't want to have to choose. Yet you can't be "all in" in all things. Ponder that verse from Sirach today and pray about your choices and how they align with God's desire of life for you.

DASH 1: We are all back together and on the same topic this week reviewing Kerygma tree themes/figures, discussing Lent and our Liturgical Calendar.

DASH 2: No new assignments posted today (or next week) so you have time to complete your All About my Name project and the "Sirach" Scripture Connections reflection.

DASH 3: Teens are off today and next weekend to honor a sports holiday and a presidential holiday. Enjoy your Sunday with family, friends, sports and don't forget your prayer time!

Bishop Hicks' Column

February 2023: Feeding the hungry through our ministries

People are sometimes surprised to hear that I do my own grocery shopping and cook my own meals. I am not a gourmet chef, but I can hold my own in the kitchen. Frankly, it is not that big of a task since I live alone and frequently eat out at meetings, receptions and events. Therefore, most of my trips to the grocery store are a very quick "in and out."

However, for Christmas day, I invited my family for dinner. Hosting 10 people resulted in a much longer grocery list and time in the store than usual. So as I navigated the aisles filled with a multitude of carts and frantic shoppers on the morning of December 24, it struck me just how much the price of food has gone up. There was a woman standing next to me in the egg section. Suddenly, she blurted out, "Is this really the cost of eggs?!" I turned to her and said, "I think so. It's unbelievable, right?" With an affirming and exaggerated nodding of her head, she added, "Unbelievable, yes! And outrageous. I have sticker shock!"

With the soaring grocery prices across our nation, hunger is also on the rise. As a Church, we are mandated to not turn a blind eye to those in need. One of the many ways that we put our faith into action is by feeding the hungry. Scripture is clear about the obligation to help those who are less fortunate. Once we have adored and worshiped God, being nourished by the Word and the Eucharist, we are mandated to go out and serve the poor, and not just in abstract ways, but tangibly: "What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if you say you have faith but do not have works?" (James 2:14)

I am proud that we in the Diocese of Joliet take this mandate to heart. Our Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal (CMAA) supports so many ministries, including outreach to the poor and hungry. It helps support Catholic Charities, whose mobile food pantries at parishes and schools throughout the diocese helped more than 26,000 people last year. Catholic Charities also uses these visits to offer resources to other services participants may need.

Additionally, the ministries of mercy advisor from our Department of Catechesis and Evangelization organized

"Christmas Blessing" grants to local parish-based food pantries. The applications submitted by parishes painted a stark yet accurate picture of the struggle to stock pantries in the face of dramatically increasing prices. Yet it was heartening to read of the commitment of parish staff and volunteers to help their faith community and neighbors. Our Catholic schools and religious education programs also contribute to this ministry with donations and service hours. We all work as a family to help our brothers and sisters with a basic need of life.

My aunt and uncle volunteer at their church's food pantry. They, too, have reported that the number of people requesting food has continued to rise exponentially, and sometimes they are surprised by who is asking for food. Recently, they handed a basket of food to a man who has been a longtime parishioner and pillar of their church. Confused, they assumed he was there to volunteer for the distribution of food, but why was he waiting in the line? Sheepishly, he said to them, "I feel so bad. Over the years, I was the one giving out food, and now I need it myself. With prices skyrocketing, I have come to the point of having to choose between my medication or food. I am embarrassed to admit that I now need this assistance myself."

Sometimes, we can be tempted to wonder if everyone in the food pantry lines really needs the food they are receiving from us. There might be some people who take advantage of our generosity. Yet, I would rather err on the side of generosity and love than turn away those who are in need. St. Paul boldly challenges us to be generous to all people, even those we might deem undeserving, such as our enemies: "If your enemies are hungry, feed them; if they are thirsty, give them something to drink." (Romans 12:20)

There are so many ways to feed the hungry and help those in need. Whatever way you choose - the CMAA, donations to your parish or local pantry, volunteerism or prayers - to you I say, "thank you!" For whenever we put our faith into action, we are following what Jesus teaches in the Gospel: "Truly I tell you, just as you did it to one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did it to me."
