A St. Vincent de Paul Society Gospel Reflection

Today as we celebrate the feast of the Ascension we are reminded that Christ's saving work on earth continues through his disciples... and now through us.

When we give to the poor, God indeed pours his love, peace and joy into our hearts, into our lives and into the hearts of those who are poor.

There are bags in the narthex to use for the clothing drive.

A NOTE FROM FATHER EICKHOFF

Today the Church celebrates the Ascension of the Lord Jesus Christ to the right hand of the Father in heaven. This may seem to be a melancholy occasion to celebrate as we often think of how great it would be if Christ was present bodily here and now. However, the Opening Prayer to today's Mass makes it clear why Christ needed to ascend to the Father:

*Gladden us with holy joys, almighty God,
and make us rejoice with devout thanksgiving,
for the Ascension of Christ your Son is our exaltation,
and, where the Head has gone before in glory,
the Body is called to follow in hope.*

The text of the Opening Prayer gives to us two reasons why Christ needed to ascend to the Father. The first is that Jesus Christ, having taken upon Himself our human nature when He became incarnate, by returning to the Father takes our human nature into the glory of heaven. He does this not for Himself, but for us His brothers and sisters, who share with Him our human nature. By returning to the Father Christ uplifts our human nature in a way that could not be accomplished by any other means. This alone would be worthy of celebration, but as the Opening Prayer points out there is still another reason for rejoicing. The second reason is that Christ ascends to the Father to prepare the way for us, His disciples, to follow after Him into the glory of heaven. Jesus Christ is in this sense like a series of road signs directing us to our destination. We should always remember that as Christian disciples we should be yearning for our true home – the Kingdom of God – and we should be joyful that Christ shows us the way to reach that true and final home.

On a completely separate note, I will be on vacation this week so there will be some alterations to the Mass and confession schedule. The weekend Masses will be held as normal next weekend (June 7-8). The Monday (June 2nd) and Wednesday (June 4th) daily Masses will be held as normally scheduled. There will be Communion Services in place of the daily Masses on Tuesday (June 3rd) and Friday (June 6th). There will not be confessions on Wednesday June 4th. The normally scheduled adoration times on both Wednesday and Friday will be held as normally scheduled.

Yours in Christ,
Fr. Stephen Eickhoff
Pastor

JUBILEE YEAR 2025 JUNE CELEBRATIONS

On June 7-8 our Holy Father will be remembering in prayer and celebrating with the Church Movements, Associations, and New Communities. This is a perfect time to do some investigating into what these organizations are in the Church and how they are responding to needs of people throughout the world. After your investigation, have your family pray for one of these groups asking God to bless their mission in the Church.

Bishop Hicks' Column
June 2025
Habemus Papam: With God, All Things Are Possible

It was a moment I will never forget!

On May 9, 2025, I was traveling from Omaha back to the Diocese of Joliet after attending the installation of my classmate and friend as the new Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Omaha. I was glued to my phone, watching as white smoke billowed from the chimney at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

As I stood in line for TSA security at the Omaha airport, a woman in front of me asked, "Bishop, do you think we might get an American pope this time?" I quickly responded, "No, that's impossible."

I then placed my carry-on and phone on the conveyor belt, went through the metal detector, put my belt back on, and reclaimed my phone—only to see the news that the impossible had just happened. We had a new pope, born and raised in the USA... Pope Leo XIV! That moment solidified for me that the Holy Spirit is still in charge of our Church. Indeed, with God, all things are possible (Matthew 19:26).

My flight home was abuzz with joy and curiosity about this new pope as passengers all around me asked, "Do you know him?" The short answer is: "Yes, I know him." While I am twelve years younger than he is, we actually grew up in the same neighborhood in the South Suburbs of Chicago. He lived in Dolton, and I was raised next door in South Holland—and we even share a favorite pizza place.

I had the privilege of meeting Pope Leo XIV when he was still Cardinal Robert Prevost. On August 7, 2024, he came to our diocese to speak at St. Jude Parish in New Lenox. I attended his lecture, which focused on the Catholic Church and Pope Francis. What struck me most was the clarity with which he spoke—he was both deeply intelligent and remarkably pastoral. His insights were not hidden behind academic jargon. Instead, they were spoken plainly and with heart, taking complex concepts and making them understandable to all.

After his talk, I still remember him saying to me, "Can we get five minutes by ourselves to talk?" Our conversation lasted over fifteen minutes, just the two of us. I was moved by his warmth and attentiveness. He was not rushed or distracted—he was present. And as we wrapped up our conversation, he handed me his card and said, "If you ever need to talk, just call." That kind of humble openness left a lasting impression.

Besides asking if I know our new Holy Father, the other most common question I have received is: "What kind of pope do you think he will be?" That answer will unfold in the years to come. However, after greeting the world with the words Peace be with you, he has continued to preach about the absolute importance of cultivating a personal relationship with Jesus. While emphasizing the need for justice and peace for all people, he has also insisted that without faith, life lacks meaning.

During his inauguration Mass, Pope Leo XIV offered a powerful homily centered on unity, love, and humble service. He said, "I come to you as a brother, who desires to be the servant of your faith and your joy, walking with you on the path of God's love, for he wants us all to be united in one family." He urged the Church to be a "small leaven of unity" in a divided world, calling us to walk together as instruments of healing, hope, and reconciliation—to foster dialogue within the Church and beyond.

So far, it seems that Pope Leo XIV—formed by the Augustinian tradition and shaped by his missionary experiences—strongly desires to be a bridge-builder, encouraging all of us to tear down walls of division and live as one body in Christ.

On one last lighter, yet poignant note—even though he grew up a Sox fan and I am a Cubs fan—it's a joy to remember that we both play on the same team: working together for Christ and for the Church!

So, giving thanks to God for our new Holy Father, please join me in prayer—asking the Holy Spirit to guide, protect, and strengthen Pope Leo XIV.

Habemus papam! And may God bless him always.
